

Relive the 2018 Family Leadership Summit!

More than mere highlights, get a genuine taste of what it was like to attend the 2018 Family Leadership Summit by watching the video below.

The following video contains excerpts from several speakers, giving you some of the Summit's best content:

The 2018 Summit was held Friday, Sept. 14, in the grand ball room of the Community Choice Credit Union Convention Center (a.k.a. "Vets Auditorium") in downtown Des Moines. The Summit included a stirring call to biblically transform the culture from Pastor and former Southern Baptist Convention President Jack Graham, an update on the status of religious liberty in the U.S. from Alliance Defending Freedom President Michael Farris, a reminder of America's unique role in defending Israel from Christians United for Israel's Lyndon Allen, and several other inspiring speakers.

The breakout sessions included discussions on life legislation in Iowa, a biblical perspective of poverty, learning to overcome the barriers in talking to today's youth, and more.

Great speakers and great content, however, are only one part of what makes The Family Leadership Summit so unique. At the heart of it all is the experience – the prayer that goes into it, the people you meet, the encouraging conversations, and the atmosphere of being with others who want to see the Church awakened and reenergized in our nation, not for the sake of partisanship or politics, but for authentic, biblical impact on the nation our children and grandchildren inherit.

The Summit is principle over politics. It's seeking a revived America that honors God and blesses people. And it's an event you don't want to miss!
